West Coleman Delegation Attend Council Meeting

Coleman council were approached by close to a dozen West Coleman residents at council meeting this week, when spokesman for the delegation indicated that home-owners in this area were worried about not being able to install gas furnaces in their homes.

West Coleman has had considerable trouble with flooding basements at various times of the year and with this problem facing them the residents who have expressed their wish to have gas furnaces and gas water heaters installed will be unable to take advantage of this service unless something is done to correct the cause of their flooding basements. Council have studied this problem for several years and have found that the cause of the trouble could be corrected if the bed of the Crows Nest River were dredged in West Coleman to deepen the channel some six feet.

The river bed is filling more and more each year and as a result more trouble is being experienced each season. As a result of the complaint the council will take this matter up with the provincial government department of water resources to try to get the river channel dredged and deepened.

It was announced at the meeting that East Coleman, Cardendale and Blairmore road areas have decided to purchase natural gas from the Coleman Gas Company. These areas will number well over 200 additional services.

Meanwhile the council gave third reading to the by-law authorizing the council to go ahead with the formation of the gas company and negotiations are presently underway for the hiring of a firm to install the natural gas system in town. Completion date for the installation has been set for September 15th.

 An evening of bingo and whist was enjoyed with card prizes being won by Pearl Weryshko, Isabel Petsuk and consolation by Helen Kropinak.

The gifts inside the safe were in small money bags and some even contained 'Diefenbaker Dollars' worth 92½c. The bandit attempted to make off with the bags of gifts but the hostesses gave chase and recovered the bride's presents.

Included in the fine assortment of gifts inside the imitation safe were a mixer, floor polisher, vacuum cleaner, ironing board and cover, canister set, electric coffee pot and toaster and many other useful household articles for which Miss Moore very ably expressed her thanks to the hostesses and her many friends.
